

Ginger Robin Mattox

June 17, 1989 - May 21, 2020

My beloved daughter was struck by a drunk driver on May 21, 2020 at approximately 10:20 pm. The detective stated that because of the Pandemic, and people starting to move around from shelter in place, that there has been an increase in drunk driving and fatal accidents. She was struck upon a sidewalk when the drunk driver jumped the curb. She died at the scene of the accident. Ginger did not deserve to die this way. She had many goals and was looking forward to participating in life. Ginger loved life by seeing the good in every day and every night sky. Her love for the earth showed by the many rocks she has collected which we will place in her garden memorial. She loved her friends and family and loved her dog, Buddy. He was her best friend. When she was hit by the car, Buddy's dog food was there. Ginger's opened mindfulness and theories about life and nature would have attracted even the best theorist of human history. But this never took away from believing that God loved her and she believed He had a plan. Ginger will be missed!

“ It’s coming up on 3 years and it doesn’t even get easier. Praying for strength to get through this week. I’m keeping your memories alive in my heart. Nobody knows the pain I carry in me daily. I can hear a certain song or randomly have a memory that makes me think of you. I’ve never had a friend like you. Continue to watch over me. Praying for your family ❤️

“Ginger I'm so sorry about your brother but I know y'all are together now. I don't think I'll ever get over you being gone. Everyday is hard and it doesn't get any easier. I wish I could talk to you. I wish I could hear your laughter. I wish we could just start all over and do so many things differently. I'm in school now and I want you to know that you're my inspiration. I miss you more than words could ever say. I remember how your little brother would follow us around all the time. I remember the road trip we had with your mom and us going camping. I cherish all the memories we share and they will live in my heart forever. Fly high Ginger and know your memory lives on forevermore. I love you Chubba. Rest In Peace

“ baby g...omg!! I can't believe you're gone. too soon, too unfair. I just saw you two weeks ago and we chopped it up, like always, ending with a goodbye hug. never in a million years did I think it would be the last time I saw you. you were so big hearted...extremely hard to find these days...and I know you will keep everyone "on their toes" in heaven. you will be missed.

“ "Baby G" This definitely hit different finding out you have passed and not ever getting to say goodbye. It has been some years since I've seen you, but our bond and friendship was never ending and when we linked up we never missed a beat. Your smile, positiveness, goofy personality and our longs talks about God will be in my heart and our memories will be with me forever. I remember meeting you in boot camp as kids, we use to clown doing PT, marching and you'd always find a way to sneak me a snicker on the bus. Lol. Gods timing and ours don't always align, but his divine purpose and reasoning is far greater than our understanding. I know that you're at peace and no longer have to deal with the ways of this wicked world. I pray your family finds peace and comfort. I love you my friend "Baby G" & will always miss you, until we meet again.

“ You were always so full of life and seen the good in everyone. You were so inelegant and loved to teach others about life. You was my best friend. I remember all the adventures and missions we would go on together back in the day. You was my better half ...my ride or die nigga...Excuse my talk but you was. You always saved me from loosing my mind when life was hard. My daughter loved you and still does...You have made such a major impact in my life my friend. I am going to miss your crazy ideas and speratic decisions. You have touch so many people while we were blessed to have you on this earth...You loved God and children and always spoke so highly on the both...You loved your little sister...You used to tell me how she changed your life..how much you loved spending time with her. You were just an amazing beautiful person inside and out. You took risks and always went above and beyond and thats why I love you so much. You hated when I called you Ginger...you would talk crap..lol...mann I sure will miss your crazy high strung spirit. I love you Baby G...My sister...my heart...I love you. Fly high with the angels and save me a spot so we can hit it hard again like we used to and make sure you start the fort for me...Ill be there to help finish it..."only u know what I mean".Gonna miss you. Sisters always and forever#started stompngstjohnsmt6
