

Jamie Todd Moore

April 13, 1974 - December 25, 2024

Jamie Todd Moore passed away on December 25, 2024, at the age of fifty. Jamie was born on April 13, 1974, in Atlanta, Georgia, and grew up in Houston, Texas, but considered Austin, Texas his home.

Jamie is survived by his partner Daniela Martinez, of Austin, Texas, and their beloved dogs, Aria and Willow; his mother Lindajane Moore of Houston, Texas; his elder sister Amy Moore of Houston, Texas, his elder brother Cory Moore and wife Jennifer of Damon, Texas; his nephew Cody Moore of Sugar Land, Texas; his nephew Zachary Moore, wife Carissa, and children Kisa and Leander Moore of Rosenberg, Texas; and his nephew Joshua Moore of Rosenberg, Texas. He is preceded in death by his father Glynn Moore, of Houston, Texas, and his beloved cat, Chloe.

Jamie was a 1992 graduate of Mayde Creek High School where he participated in a variety of sports. He was a proud The University of Texas - Austin graduate - Class of 1996, a member of the Texas Cowboys, and was a Founder Resident of the UT Club. Jamie never missed a chance to cheer on the Texas Longhorns and the Houston Astros.

Jamie was a man whose life was fueled by his love of sports. He could and would talk endlessly about anything sports-related to literally anyone willing to listen, and he knew what he was talking about. He made friends and connected with people from all walks of life in this way.

He lived in Austin with his partner, Daniela Martinez, who he met in Las Vegas. After a year and a half of travel and long distance love, Daniela left Las Vegas and moved to Austin to be with Jamie. They built a home together with three loving pets, Chloe, Aria, and Willow. They spent their years together traveling, eating good food, laughing, cooking, learning new things, walking their dogs, and spending every moment they could together.

In honor of Jamie's love for animals, his family kindly requests that donations be made to Austin Pets Alive (<https://donate.austinpetsalive.org/fundraiser/5983828>), in lieu of flowers, to honor his memory and continue his legacy of compassion.

Jamie's family will be honoring their cherished memories in a small private gathering. They warmly encourage friends and those whose lives Jamie touched to gather in their own way to celebrate his life and legacy.

Rest in peace, Jamie. You will always be remembered.

“ Once a year, over 2 days I would hang out with Jamie in person at a fantasy baseball draft, and the banter was always non-stop fun, and you could always count on Jamie to have the best jokes, barbed comments, drink concoctions, and to pick a pitching staff that would inevitably get injured as his team came up short of 1st. And the rest of the year we would banter online as he rode his passion for the Astros, Longhorns, and living life out loud. Heck, I remember rooting on Iowa State women's basketball last year with him and how Jamie wanted to dress as their coach for Halloween :-). Jamie had so many passions in life - Daniela, his pets, music, baseball, Vegas, March Madness, drinking, travel... I was lucky to be his friend and I will miss all the future time that I do not get to spend with him. I had planned to meet up with Jamie in Vegas over New Year's and he had me convinced to try a Viking River Cruise of all things! We are all heartbroken at his passing.

Corey - you nailed it. Jamie was one of those special people who really lived life to it's fullest and it was a joy to be along for the ride

“ Although I would not call Jamie one of my closest friends, actually I've probably only hung out with him in person two or three times over the past 15 years, yet I've always considered him a good friend. Damn, it's been about 30 years since Jamie joined our fantasy baseball league and there's never been an owner snake-bit with more bad luck than Jamie and his team named 'A Tribe called Quest' - not one championship in 30 years. If a player suffered a significant injury, you could be pretty confident he was a Quester.

Jamie was obviously very smart and one of the funniest people I've ever met - I already feel the void; I could bounce some of the craziest, snarkiest, scattalogical stuff off him and always receive an outrageous laugh out loud response, which of course always required an even more off-color rejoinder! I'm definitely going to miss that - it brought joy to my day.

When Jamie hooked up with Daniela I saw another side of him emerge that I hadn't seen before. A quiet joy, he was very proud to be connected to Daniela and loved sharing his connection with her. He loved hosting the annual auction at his home and it was his connection to Daniela that made him an excellent host. I will miss Jamie - there's a hole in our league, there's a hole in my heart. May your memory be a blessing.

“ Jamie was a long time member of our fantasy baseball league, and such a great, funny, generous in spirit guy with an amazing love for life that we his friends were lucky to share in.

Just stunned. I feel so lucky to have had Jamie as a friend, and so heartbroken to hear of his passing.

Jamie was always fun to be around. His personal aura was comfortably inviting. He was his friend's favorite host for a reason. His loving smile and laugh will be missed.

“ I am so sorry to hear the news of Jamie’s untimely passing. Jamie and I met at the Castilian dorm in 1992 at the University of Texas and bonded over our love of sports and live music. I will remember fondly our days serving as Texas Cowboys, our multiple UT football road trips, and seeing the Scabs perform every Tuesday night at Antone’s in the late 1990’s. We lost touch over the years as life got in the way. I would like to extend my deepest condolences to Jamie’s family for their loss. Jamie was a large part of my college experience. I am grateful to have known Jamie. Rest easy my friend.

“ Me and my entire family are deeply saddened for the loss of Jamie, my niece’s life partner. Jamie won our hearts the moment we all met him. His sweetness, kindness and love would show every time we met. Jamie you will always be in our hearts. We know you are an angel in heaven.

“ Jaime, you will be missed. Your smile, your energy, your spirit will always be remembered. Thank you for the laughs and for being my cousins companion and best friend. Thank you for the friendly banter between the Astros and Dodgers. We may be a Dodger family but will always remember your Astros. Love you!
