“ This is very sad news for me. Linda and I were together at ohev from the early '70s till we moved away to Boynton Beach and now Sarasota. We shared a love of music and were active in the synagogue choir. Our children were in many activities at the same time and so we were often together as the parents in the background, sharing notes and visiting while the kids did their thing. Linda was a very caring person who was not afraid to tell things as they really were. She had a lot of strength which I admired in her. We remained Facebook friends and I was able to follow up on her travels and move to Texas that way. I am sure her grandchildren have many happy memories to Comfort them. May those who are close to her find comfort in all that she gave of herself for their behalf. You are never ready for that final goodbye. It always happens too soon.

“ I met Linda at Congregation Ohev Shalom. We participated in the same events and had the same interests, especially when it came to our kids. She was very intelligent, caring and was an extremely good tennis player. We spoke about cruising not that long ago. My prayers are with the family. May they have the strength to endure such a sad loss. May her memory be a blessing. 💔😭💔

“ Linda impacted my life in so many ways. We played and organized tennis together. She named and helped organize the Tuesday .W.I.N.(What's In a Name) tennis league in 1992, which still is an important league in Orlando today. I have so many of her poems that she wrote about my relatives in my files. My Mom mentioned she found hers last week. She was full of child rearing advice and helped me with religious knowledge. She was my Orlando family as my relatives were all out of town. We will all miss her and her words of wisdom.

“ As a close childhood friend of Linda's daughter Sharon, I enjoyed time with Linda. She was so easy to talk to. She encouraged me to travel and to get outside of my comfort zone, which was great advice! She will be missed very much by her family and loved ones.
