After running his own business in D.C., he discovered Chiropractic and went back to school to become an independent Doctor of Chiropractic for 30+ years, improving and saving thousands of patients' lives. Steve was always keen on healthcare and stayed emphatically true to his Hippocratic oath, going to great lengths to help when he was people were in pain, knowing he was the best.

He loved adventure, geology, and mining, inventing and registering patents, and developing an integrated physics theory that explains our Universe. He even became the eldest alligator wrestler in Colorado! He was befriended and beloved anywhere he traveled. Above all, he was a loving father and always prioritized spending time with his two sons as they grew up. To many, he was a doctor, a classmate, a business partner, a teacher, a client, a friend, family or even a soulmate. His legacy will live on in the memories of these dear people whose lives he touched, articles he published and technique perfected (<https://youtu.be/2Mfhq7JhNos>).

The world has a truly amazing man & chiropractor. Without a doubt the most caring & gifted chiropractor I've ever had in my life. I'm so sorry to hear of his passing. My heart goes out to Jeramie & Kerry, & to all those who were touched by this man.

Steve was one of the most caring people I've ever known. I met him 15 years ago and he quickly became one of my best friends. His knowledge of human anatomy, chiropractics, and physics were astounding. He was not your ordinary chiropractor. Steve was always about helping, not profit. He would offer his services to people even if they didn't have the means to pay him. One of my greatest friends, Steve will always live on in my memory.

Dr. Berman it has being a year that you left us, and I miss you tons. There is nobody like you. Not only as a chiropractor since you were the best one on on the planet, and there is no comparison because nobody knows how to adjust like you did, but also as a person. You really cared for each patient and animals and wanted them to feel better. Your adjustments were like a passage to heaven, free of pain and happiness as a present. The smartest and the most compassionate and humble. I learn a lot from you just by observing the way you are to yourself and to others. Always true to yourself and with the kindest heart that I have ever met.

I really miss you a lot. I try every day to live the way you did because that is the most precious treasure you left behind. i will miss you and love you always.
